Brandon NG

Senior Lecturer & Consultant, Data Science Practice

✉ issnst@nus.edu.sg

Profile

Brandon is currently an Associate in NUS-ISS. He completed his study in Computer Science, major in Software Engineering and Artificial Intelligence. Under the NUS full time research scholarship sponsored by The Logistics Institute - Asia Pacific, he did research in Intelligent Transportation System for his master study.

He used to work in various IT projects in different domains, namely e-government projects for taxation and e-services security, global wide e-payment gateway for online gaming, logistics system for global supply chain management, work flow and business process for investment, and etc.

Brandon has been a full time and adjunct lecturer for local IHL as well as several oversea universities. He taught subjects for courses in various areas, including Enterprise Application Development, Data Structure and Algorithm, Geospatial Information System and Technology for Mobility, Enterprise Resource Planning, Business Processes, System/Business Analysis and Design, Business Intelligence, Knowledge Management Techniques, Database, Cyber Forensic, and others.

Educational Qualifications/Professional Certifications

- Master of Engineering, National University of Singapore
- Bachelor of Science (Computer)(1st Hons), University of Technology Malaysia

Membership and Professional Activities

- Member, Project Management Institute (PMI)

Courses

- MTech In Enterprise Business Analytics
- MTech In Knowledge Engineering

What I Teach

DATA SCIENCE

Data Storytelling

DATA SCIENCE

Product & Pricing Analytics

DATA SCIENCE

Analytics for Commercial Excellence

DATA SCIENCE

Data Management for Analytics

DATA SCIENCE

Explainable and Responsible Artificial Intelligence

DATA SCIENCE

Data Storytelling

DATA SCIENCE

Dynamic Business Planning & Modelling

◀ Go Back to Our Team

NUS-ISS / About Us / Staff

Legal   •   Branding Guidelines   •   Contact Us   •   Getting to ISS